Ex-Edwin Wilson Aide Is Guilty of Tax Evasion

SAN ANTONIO, July 14 (UPI) — A man who worked for Edwin Wilson, a former Central Intelligence Agency agent, was convicted today on two counts of Federal income tax evasion, but his wife was acquitted of the same charges.

The Federal jury's verdict in the case of Eugene and Betty Jo Tafoya came after two days of deliberations. Mr. Tafoya will be sentenced by Federal District Judge Dorwin W. Suttle.

The Tafoyas, both of El Paso, were charged with failing to report $90,000 in income to the Internal Revenue Service in 1980 and 1981.

Government prosecutors contended Mr. Tafoya got the money by working as a mercenary for Mr. Wilson, who was convicted in an unrelated case of selling weapons to the Libyan Government.
